Positions: Judge Briccetti has completed hiring for clerkships commencing in the fall of 2017. He has one opening for a two-year clerkship commencing in February 2018, and one opening for a one-year clerkship commencing in the fall of 2018. However, he will not be conducting interviews before February 1, 2017.

Law Students: Law students are encouraged to apply, but not before the second semester of their third year. Although Judge Briccetti will make offers to law students, he requires all new clerks to have at least one year of post-law school work experience, whether through a clerkship or practice or both.

Graduates: Law school graduates may submit applications at any time, except that, as noted above, Judge Briccetti will not be conducting interviews for the 2018 openings before February 1, 2017.

Application Process: Applicants should mail to Chambers a cover letter, resume, law school and undergraduate transcripts, one or two writing samples, and three letters of reference. Letters of reference may be submitted separately from the rest of the application package, although the cover letter should so state. No interview can be scheduled until Chambers receives the letters of reference. Applications are not accepted electronically.
